

FDS0: Foundations of FDS - Assignment 1: Nature of FDS

Project-StarFall, Field of Dream Studio

This week's assignment is reading, browsing, and one short writing task. Nothing to fill in on this page.

1. Browse FDS on the web. About 10 minutes, with your mentor if possible. Look around <https://fds.moe>, <https://doc.fds.moe>, and <https://pmine.rs>. You do not need to read everything; the goal is for these sites to stop feeling abstract.
2. Skim the Charter. Open <https://doc.fds.moe/policies/constitution/>. Read at least Articles 1 through 5 (FDS's nature, official sites, language policy). Note any clauses that surprise or confuse you, and bring them to the Week 1 session.
3. Think about where you might fit. In your head or in a private note: which currently-active FDS sub-group might you want to explore first? Project-StarFall (DocServer, Akari, creative community), or PMINE (Hotaru, HCR, research)? What draws you there?
4. Think about what you bring and what you want to ask. What background, skills, or interests are you bringing in? What are two things you would like your mentor to clarify during the first session?

If you cannot reach one of the FDS sites due to network constraints, tell your mentor; they will share the relevant pages another way.
